The message just received from the Governor was read, and is as follows, viz:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Vandalia, July 11, 1837. }

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

GENTLEMEN:—In my message at the opening of the last session it was my happiness to congratulate you on the prosperity then so eminently enjoyed by every portion of our beloved country; and from my inmost heart did I rejoice to see the industrious citizen every where reap the rich rewards of his labor. And although even then, I was not without strong apprehensions of an early reverse, I am confident no human forecast could have anticipated, so sudden a calamity as has been brought upon the country by the action of the Federal Government upon its currency. At the time the President of the United States assumed the responsibility of ordering the public moneys to be removed from their legal deposit in the Bank of the United States, for the purpose, as he avowed, of preventing the re-charter of that institution by Congress, there never was a sounder currency, or a more healthy state of things in any government in the world. To effect this great object, namely, that of destroying the United States Bank, rival institutions were to be created: and it will be remembered that immediately after the removal of the deposits the Government party commenced establishing State Banks, whilst State Legislatures, deluded by the fallacious promise of advantages to be derived from the deposits to be made in these institutions, which were to be fiscal agents of Government, readily fell into the measure. As might have been expected, hundreds of new banks instantly sprung up, their enormous issues of irredeemable paper afforded the inducement of universal extravagant speculation, and gave us what all must now regard a depraved and worthless currency.

Before the public were aware of the ruin which this wild scheme portended, the Executive and a portion of its party seeing their error it would seem, endeavored to escape its consequences by amusing the people with the absurd and impracticable project of an exclusive hard money currency. I say absurd—for as well might the Executive of the United States expect to compel the citizens of the great valley to abandon the use of steam boats and resume the flat bottom and barge in the navigation of its thousand streams and rivers as to force them to give up a sound paper currency, at all times convertible into specie, with all its adaptedness to the purposes of the commerce and business of the country. Before such a scheme can be prosecuted to the results they promised, the intelligence, commerce, liberties and boundaries of all of these United States must be obliterated, and the people yield to the stubborn will and rule of a despot. These Experiments, as they have been styled by their authors, may and I believe have had their political effect; but they have also had their effect upon the country acknowledged to be full of resources, distinguished for its intelligence, its enterprise, and wonderful prosperity, in reducing it to an almost universal bankruptcy; in prostrating alike its business, its energies, and confidence.

It was in view of the motive which dictated the measure, and in anticipation of some of these results, that I opposed at first, the establishment of the State Bank of Illinois; as I did also last winter, both the increase of its capital and that of the Bank at Shawneetown.

But it is easier sometimes, to trace the causes of evils, than to find out a remedy for them. The enquiry, however, is important and useful, as the discovery of the cause, not unfrequently suggests the remedy. That you will have it in your power, to do all demanded by the present exigency, is more than I dare hope. Probably as much as can at present be effected, will be to place our own State in such an attitude, as to parry off the blow, and stay as far as possible, the effects of the crisis upon our interests, until Congress, the only legitimate power under our Constitution, shall regulate the currency, and restore it to its former sound condition and beneficent action.

The connection of the State with the Banks of Illinois, renders an attention to its affairs, a matter of immediate and imperative duty.

By an act to increase the capital stock of certain Banks, &c. approved March 4th, 1837, it is made the duty of the Fund Commissioners, to subscribe two millions of dollars to the State Bank of Illinois, and one million to the stock of the Bank of Illinois at Shawneetown; and by the 11th section of said act, the Bank is made the fiscal agent of the State. One thousand shares of the stock of the State Bank of Illinois were subscribed for by the State, for which $100,000 of public money was paid in MARCH last. The Bank took the loan negotiated last year in New York, of $100,000, for which it agrees to place a credit in the Bank, to the Canal Fund for $105,000, including five per cent. premium. It has also agreed to pay the State Bonds for the Wiggins' loan of $100,000. The Auditor's books show a deposite of State funds now in the Bank of $388,669 51. The report of the Canal Commissioner, of the 23d of May, shews a deposite of Canal funds in the Branch at Chicago, to the amount of $285,834 89.

There is $60,000 of the State funds now on deposite in the Bank at Shawneetown, and the Commissioners of the School Fund, hold a draft from the Treasury of the United States on it for $16,100, which several sums make the responsibilities of these Banks to the State, amount to $1,055,604 40. These Banks both having stopped paying their notes in specie in May last, and as by the 25th section of the act, incorporating the State Bank of Illinois,—Approved Feb. 12th, 1835, and by the supplement to said act, Approved January 18th, 1836, it is provided, that if said corporation shall neglect or refuse to pay its notes in specie for sixty days, it forfeits its charter, and is required immediately to discontinue all its operations, except for receiving and collecting its debts; and as it is believed, that while all other Banks refuse, the Banks of no one State, however solvent, can safely or long continue to pay specie for their notes; it will be perceived, at once, that immediate Legislative action is indispensable for the protection and security of those important interests. In the adoption of any measure which your wisdom may suggest, in relation to the Banks, or for the better security of the interests of the State connected with them, care should be taken to require a reduction of their notes in circulation, and prevent any increase of their responsibilities, so as to ensure a resumption of specie payments as early as possible.

It can admit of no doubt, that if the Banks of Illinois, which are known to be as solvent as any other banks in the country, under existing circumstances, were to persist in paying out specie for their notes, the result would be, at no long period, an entire transfer from their own to the vaults of other Banks—the ultimate but sure loss of their capital—the imminent jeopardy of the State funds—and be so crippled, if not crushed in their operations, as to embarrass most seriously, the movements of the community at large; and not less seriously, the improvements, business, and commerce of the State, with all of which it is intimately connected.

For the same important considerations that I opposed the act, requiring the Fund Commissioners to subscribe on behalf of the State for three millions of dollars of the stock of those Banks, to be paid for by the sale of State bonds, I am now satisfied ought to be repealed forthwith, and do accordingly recommend it to be done.

Your attention should also be directed to the Surplus Revenue, the fourth instalment of which becomes due on the 30th day of September next; inasmuch as the Banks in which it was deposited have all stopped specie payments; and your resolution requires the Treasurer to receive it only in specie, which at present is impracticable.

In the midst of the disasters which have already fallen on the commercial world, and which are still threatening us on all sides, a favorable opportunity occurs to escape from the perils of that system of Internal Improvement adopted last winter, which to my apprehension is so fraught with evil: and for the reason assigned when I refused my assent to the enactment passed in its favor, as well as from existing pecuniary troubles and derangements, I now recommend its repeal.— Aware that it is always difficult, and sometimes grievous, at least partially, to abandon even a bad system after the interests of society have become identified with it, it is with reluctance, much more in regard to this fact, than hesitation as to the propriety of the step, that I urge the recommendation: especially, too, as my conviction is deep and firm that such undertakings belong rather to arbitrary and despotic Governments, than to the republican institutions of a free people, as by the power of patronage and official influence, they tend to corrupt the many and exalt the few. In all the melancholy histories of departed liberty, the process of decay commenced in the people's neglect and disuse of their own rights and privileges, and progressed in the ignorant and fatuous transfer of them to their rulers. And of all the dark symptoms which indicate the evil at work in our own system, none seems so fearful, so alarming, as the steady, nay, rapid departure of power from the hands of the people to the hands of the Government—a fact sufficiently obvious to all who have observed the political movements of the last eight years.

If to the power and influence which necessarily belong to political station there be added the immense patronage no less involved in extended public works, there may come a struggle between the people and their rulers; but too late for the former to regain what the latter have stolen. Let the present pernicious system be rescinded, and in its stead adopt the safer, the more generous, more economical, most expeditious, and in every respect the preferable plan of encouraging private individuals and corporations by suitable aid from the State—and thus escape the intrigue, venality, waste and corruption inherent in that patronage which must grow out of such a system as the present.

A report of the Board of Internal Improvement to the Executive of the 5th June, is herewith enclosed, which exhibits its operations to date. A report and correspondence of the Canal Commissioners are also transmitted. By the correspondence, it will be seen that the calling of the Legislature together has been urged upon the Executive by them as necessary for the carrying on of that favorite work, and because of the probable difficulty of collecting the 2nd instalment on the lots sold in Chicago, which fell due on the 20th of June last.

Having received a letter from the Board informing me they would make a full report to the Legislature of all their operations present and plans for the future, I will leave this subject with an earnest recommendation of it to your fostering care: hoping that this great work will be carried forward with all the expedition, consistent with a just economy. As I consider it a national work, and ourselves as managers of the fund, appropriated by Congress for its accomplishment, it would seem to be our duty faithfully to apply these means; and upon its completion, after a suitable reservation for repairs and improvements, and with due consideration for the rights of the State, it will be equally our duty and interest to make this canal free as the waters of the lake.

Unpleasant as the subject is to myself, and may be to others, I feel bound again to call your attention, and through you that of our constituents, to the affairs of our National Government, especially of its Executive branch; to the action of which I confidently believe many of the evils we are now suffering, and with which we are threatened, are fairly to be attributed. There must be change there must be reform. The Public Treasury must be again firmly placed in the custody of law; and all power and control over it by the Executive of the United States must be repudiated. The Executive should be prohibited under severe penalties from establishing a rule in violation of law to collect the revenue in one quarter of the country in specie only, and in another to collect in bank paper; or from using any other means for diverting the specie (which is the only safe basis of exchanges) from the ordinary channels of business. Congress must regulate the currency by law, and place it out of Executive or official power, either to try experiments, or make speculations upon it. The patronage of the Executive must be reduced, and his power to remove public officers so modified as to prevent his displacing a faithful and competent man, either to gratify party malice, or to intimidate him in the free and independent exercise of the elective franchise; so, also, as will secure him against Executive tyranny, and all control over his official acts, except such as the law imposes; that his qualifications, fidelity and ability, may be his only hope of retaining office.

That control over the public press and Congress which has been so powerfully exercised by the appointment of newspaper editors and members of the Senate and House of Representatives to high and lucrative offices by the Executive, should as far as possible be obviated. The constitutional and legal right of each or both Houses of Congress to examine into the official conduct of every officer in the Government, should be clearly established, as it is the only efficient check the people have upon their public servants; whilst public expenditures must be reduced and more economy and simplicity in the administration of Government be observed, before we can ever be secure of those incres-timable blessings hitherto enjoyed under our constitution and excellent form of Government. I pray gentlemen, that the State may experience the full measure of your patriotism. Never was wisdom from above to direct your counsels, more to be implored than at this moment. Party spirit in its mildest form has ever been found an enemy to liberty and sound legislation: but when it is the offspring of ambition and avarice, directed by designing bad men in high places, it begets a blind devotion and infuriated zeal, which shuts the door against all reason, justice and patriotism. May God in his infinite wisdom and mercy avert such an evil from this country, and that justice and the laws may prevail, and that every man in this broad land may sit down again with confidence under the shadow of the constitution in the peaceable and quiet enjoyment of his rights and privileges. No power must be allowed to exist in this country superior to that of the people, or that does not acknowledge the supreme and inflexible authority of the law as the rule of action both for the President and every other functionary of the Government.

With great respect, your obd't servant,

JOSEPH DUNCAN.

Mr. Shields, from the committee on Elections to which had been referred the poll book and return of an election for a Representative in the Legislature from the county of Cass, reported,

That the county of Cass was formed out of the county of Morgan by an act passed during the last session of the General Assembly, and organized according to the provisions of the same; that at an election held at Beardstown, in said county, on the first day of July last, Thomas Wilbourn was elected to represent said county in the Legislature of this State. By referring to the seventh section of the act above mentioned, the only section bearing directly on this subject we find the following provisions: "In case said county of Cass shall be created under the provisions of this act, then, until the next apportionment of Senators and Representatives to the General Assembly, the said county shall be entitled to one Representative to the General Assembly, and shall at the next election vote with the county of Morgan for one Senator; also, at every succeeding election for said Senator, and the county of Morgan shall be entitled to five Representatives and two Senators." By the last apportionment the county of Morgan was entitled to have six Representatives and three Senators, and it is clear that whatever disposition its citizens may choose to make of their county, and into whatever number of distinct counties they may choose to partition its territory, they cannot expect to increase their proportion of representation until the next general apportionment, whatever quantum therefore of representation is given to Cass must be deducted from Morgan. It then remained to consider, whether the new county was entitled to elect its own Representative at the time above stated, and thus supply the place of a member of the Morgan delegation who had previously resigned. The act above referred to was approved the third of March last, and provides that Cass shall be entitled to one Representative, and shall at the next election vote with the county of Morgan for one Senator. This evidently means the next general election; that contemplated by the 2d sec. of the 2d article of our State Constitution, and could bear no reference to a special election for a specific purpose, such as that which has lately occurred in Morgan county to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of one of its members, Stephen A. Douglass. This will appear still more obvious if we consider that had no vacancy occurred this question could not have arisen, and the Representative who has been elected to fill such vacancy stands upon the same ground occupied by his predecessor previous to his resignation. Besides, the members of the present delegation from the county of Morgan were not elected by the present county of Morgan, but by the counties of Morgan and Cass, and are consequently not the Representatives of the present county of Morgan, but of the present counties of Morgan and Cass; thus the citizens of the new county of Cass cannot justly complain that they are left unrepresented. Your committee, therefore, unanimously conclude that the new county of Cass is not yet entitled to a separate representative, and that the election held as above stated was wholly null and void.

They therefore ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Which was granted.

A message from the Governor, by Mr. Field, Secretary of State:

MR. SPEAKER,—

I am directed by the Governor to lay before the House a written communication and accompanying documents.

The communication was read as follows:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Vandalia, July 13th, 1837. }

To the Honorable the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—I herewith enclose two letters, one from Benjamin S.

Enloe, Warden; and the other from the Inspectors of the Penitentiary, concerning the official conduct of the former.

I consider it also my duty to inform the legislature that said Enloe was elected Warden of the Penitentiary on the 16th day of January, was commissioned on the 4th day of February, and on the 4th day of March his salary was increased from 6 to 8 hundred dollars per annum, which in my opinion was a violation of the 19th section of the 2d article of the Constitution, which provides that "no Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office in this State, which shall have been increased during such time." The Judge of the 5th Judicial Circuit was also a member of the Legislature at the time of his election to that office, and as his salary was increased in violation of the above recited article of the Constitution, I present his also, as one worthy of your consideration.

I have the honor to be, Sir, Your obedient servant,

JOSEPH DUNCAN.

That inasmuch as the State Bank of Illinois has asked at the hands of this Legislature extraordinary indulgence, that they enquire whether any indulgence has been extended by said branch to her debtors, and if so, into the character and degree of said indulgence. Also, whether the mother Bank has directed the most speedy collection of the debts of said Bank and its branches without let or stay, extent of time, or any relief whatever.

And whether in the collection of the debts of said Bank and its branches, the officers of the same have not been limited by resolution of the mother Bank, to the receipt of gold and silver, and their own notes.

Resolved 2. That this committee enquire into the fact whether the loans of the Bank have been confined to the citizens of Illinois, and if not what has been loaned out of this State, and to whom.

Whether also the said Bank has loaned its paper, or in any manner accommodated other banking institutions in other States.

Resolved 3. That said committee further enquire whether it was not the policy and endeavor of said Bank, after she herself had suspended specie payments, to compel the rest of the Banks of this State to suspend also; and whether for this purpose she did not threaten to abstract from the Bank at Shawneetown, the $60,000 of the surplus revenue there only on special deposite, if she did not so suspend also.

Resolved 4. That said committee also enquire whether all or what portion of the surplus revenue has been received in gold and silver according to the terms of the resolution passed by both branches of the General Assembly last winter; and if it has not been so received, whether said Bank has only become responsible for the drafts of the General Government on other Banks in favor of this State, in liquidation of the share of the surplus revenue coming to the latter, and if so, to what amount and on what banks:

And whether it was the arrangement and intention of said Bank to receive all of our share of surplus, unpaid, in the same manner, and upon the same terms.

Resolved 5. That said committee further enquire into the capability of said Bank to refund the moneys of the state now in deposite with her in gold and silver; and if she would be able so to do, whether she would be able to refund them with all of her individual deposites in the same kind of money:

And that they enquire into the expediency, under the lights of such information as they may obtain, of withdrawing the deposites of the state now in said Bank from her:

And that they report at the earliest practicable day, by bill or otherwise.

Mr. Speaker laid before the House a communication from the Governor, which was read as follows, to wit:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
 Vandalia, July 14th, 1837. }

To the Honorable, the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

Sir: In compliance with a communication of the House of Representatives of the 13th instant, calling upon the Department for certain information, in relation to the creation and organization of the county of Bureau, I have the honor herewith to state, that I have recognized that county as having been legally established by a majority of the qualified voters of the county of Putnam, out of which it was formed by the act of the last Legislature. It appears from all the evidence and documents transmitted to this Department, by those who were in favor, as well as those against the formation of said county, that a clear and decided majority of the qualified voters within the limits of the territory embracing Putnam and Bureau, voted for the establishment of the new county. It also appears that the circuit Judge of that county, after a full and thorough examination of the evidence in relation to the votes in favor of the organization of the county, decided in favor, and appointed a Clerk of the Circuit Court for that county. Believing, therefore, from all the evidence and facts submitted to my examination, that a majority of the qualified voters, who voted on that occasion, had given their votes in favor of the new county, I was constrained to recognize the county as having been legally established. I herewith enclose an abstract of the votes given for and against the formation of the said county, as well as the official returns from the Clerk of the County Commissioners' Court of the county of Putnam.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, }
Vandalia, July 14th, 1837. }

To the Honorable the Speaker

of the House of Representatives:

SIR:—In compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives of the 13th inst., calling on this Department for a statement of the number of volumes of the revised laws of 1833, which are now in the office of Secretary of State, and what counties have not been furnished with copies of the law, I have the honor to state that there is now remaining in this department one hundred and eighty volumes of the revised laws of 1833. And in conformity to a resolution of both branches of the General Assembly at their last session, requiring the Secretary of State to procure all the copies that had been transmitted for sale to the different counties in this State, I addressed a circular enclosing a copy of the resolution to the different clerks, requesting them to furnish this department with all the copies that remained on hand and which had been originally transmitted to them for sale. After employing every exertion I was only able to procure 100 copies, which together with 50 volumes from this office have been distributed with the laws and journals of the last session of the Legislature, among the counties created last winter. The number required to supply all the counties where deficiencies exist, cannot be correctly ascertained, but from the number of applications we have received, I would presume that it would require not less than 800 volumes. It will be recollected that in 1833 only 2000 copies were distributed. In 1837, the present year, 3700 copies have been sent to the different counties for distribution, which are barely sufficient for them with the present population. The country north of the Illinois river within the last three years has nearly doubled its population, and there has been a corresponding increase of officers, who are entitled to the laws.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

A. P. FIELD,
Secretary of State.

On motion of Mr. Moore of St. Clair,
Said communication was laid upon the table.

Mr. Speaker also laid before the House, a communication from the Secretary of the Board of Internal Improvement, which was read, and is as follows, viz:

CENTRAL INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT OFFICE OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS,

VANDALIA, July 14th, 1837.

To the Honorable the Speaker

of the House of Representatives:

SIR,—In compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives, calling on the Secretary of the Board of Internal Improvements for certain information relative to the names and number of persons employed by the Board, their duties, and the salary or per diem compensation allowed them, I have the honor to submit the following statement, which you will please lay before the body over which you preside. This statement, although containing all that is officially known at this office concerning the subject of inquiry, is nevertheless very imperfect, owing to the fact, that several of the corps of engineers have been so recently organised, that time has not been allowed for the reception of reports of the principal engineers, concerning them. A few copies of a printed abstract from the journal of the Board, are herewith transmitted, in which the duties of several of the officers employed by the Board, are more fully shown than could otherwise be done unless this report were too greatly extended:

On motion of Mr. Wyatt,

Resolved, That the committee on the Judiciary be instructed to enquire into the expediency of the passage of a law which will render any member of the General Assembly incapable of retaining his seat, who is holding offices of profit, or drawing salaries out of any money belonging to the state; and that they report by bill or otherwise.

The yeas and nays being called for on the adoption of this resolution by Messrs. Bentley and Murphy of Vermilion.

Those voting in the affirmative are:

Messrs. Atwater, Baker, Ball, Barnett, Bartlett, Bentley, Carpenter, Cloud, Copeland, Connolly, Courtright, Craig, Crain, Cullom, Cunningham, Davis, Dawson, Diarman, Doleans, Dougherty, Dubois, Dunbar, Dunn, Edmondston, Edwards, Elkin, English, Ewing, Green of St. Clair, Green of Green, Hankins, Happy, Hardin, Harris, Hinshaw, Hogan, Huey, Hunt, Lagow, Leary, Lincoln, Logan, Lyons, McCowan, McMurtry, Madden, Marrs, Minor, Minshall, Moore of McLean, Moore of St. Clair, Morton, Murphy of Vermilion, Naper, Odam, Oneille, Pace, Paullen, Rawalt, Reddick, Richardson, Scarborough, Shields, Smith of Madison, Smith of Wabash, Somerville, Stuart, Stuntz, Thompson, Turley, Turney, Voris, Walker of Cook, Walker of Morgan, Watkins, Webb, Wheeler, Whitten, Williams, Witt, Wyatt, and Mr. Speaker—81.

In the negative—none.

Mr. Ewing proposed for adoption the following resolutions, viz:

Resolved 1. That among the prominent causes which have produced the present deranged condition of the monetary system of the country, the chief and most prominent one producing the effect, has been the great and unnecessary multiplication of banks in the several states, and the abuse of their corporate powers, whose creation has added nothing to the actual capital of the country, but has on the contrary deluged it with a redundant circulation of bank notes of a depreciated and in many instances of an entirely worthless and valueless character, by which the producing classes of society have suffered great and ruinous losses.

Resolved 2. That the wild and ruinous speculations and extravagances into which most of the prominent classes and wealthy portions of the community have plunged with a recklessness, alike characterised by the desperation of its spirit, and the needlessness of its objects, as by the force of its example, had the most unhappy tendency in unsettling the prudent, economical, and industrious habits of the producing classes of the community, and produced a vitiated and depraved desire to accumulate wealth without labor; and that these causes have also acted as a great auxiliary in hastening the derangements and embarrassments under which we now labor.

Resolved 3. That all fictitious currencies not based upon metallic substances of the precious metals, are alike invariably subject to endless fluctuations, are ruinous in their tendencies, and afford one portion of the community an undue and unjust advantage over the less informed and laboring classes, and afford the means of the more cunning acquiring wealth at the expense of the more industrious, who desire to live by their labor and sweat of their brow than by their wits.

Resolved 4. That in order to redeem ourselves from the present unhappy and embarrassed condition into which we have been forced by the causes enumerated, it is indispensably necessary that all classes of community should promptly and without hesitation return to, and resume their former habits of prudence, economy and industry; and that every member of the community should recognise and act upon the principle that every man in the community is bound by every social and moral obligation in the sphere in which he moves, to contribute some valuable acquisition to the common stock of the wealth and productive industry of the nation, and that until this course is pursued it will be in vain to hope for an escape from our present calamities.

Resolved 5. That all legislation or attempts by legislative enactments, to interfere with the currency of the country under the pretence of remedying the evils of that currency, are but so many unwise, unjust, and ineffectual expedients to remedy evils which have their origin in the system itself, and which can never be corrected or eradicated; and that no attempt should be suffered to be made, or enactments adopted, to interfere with the constitutional currency of the country, much less to justify the refusal to pay in that currency when legally demanded, whether of corporations or individuals.

Mr. Williams moved to lay said resolutions on the table, when

On motion of Mr. Ewing,
Said resolutions were laid on the table,
And 200 copies printed.
And then

The House adjourned.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Vandalia, July 17th, 1837. }

To the Honorable the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

In compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives of the 15th instant, calling upon this Department for information in relation to the Wiggin's Debt, whether the State of Illinois is discharged from the payment of the same, and whether the bonds of the State are lifted, or not, I have the honor to state that the Bank did on the 15th day of June, 1836, enter into bond with the Executive to redeem the loan commonly called the Wiggin's Loan, in conformity with the act approved 16th February, 1836, and that the Bank has, in good faith, paid the interest due on said loan ever since.—The state is undoubtedly bound for the final payment of this debt, should the Bank fail to pay it. The bonds of the state are not lifted; nor were they required to be by the act above cited; and if such a requisition had been made, it could not have been accomplished, because State securities are of a higher value than of Banks, and also because it is believed this bond is held out of the United States. A copy of the bond of the said Bank, to discharge said loan, is herewith endorsed.

I have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOSEPH DUNCAN.

Know all men by these presents, That whereas by an act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, entitled "an act supplemental to an act to incorporate the subscribers to the Bank of the State of Illinois, approved January 16th 1836," it is enacted that certain rights and privileges in said act specified, conferred upon the State Bank of Illinois, but that said bank shall not be entitled to the benefits and provisions of said act, until the said Bank shall have entered into contract with the Governor of the State of Illinois; to reedeem the loan, commonly called the Wiggins Loan, made by authority of the State on the 20th day of Jan. A. D. 1831; together with the interest to accrue on said loan after the passage of the act aforesaid. Now therefore, know ye, That I, Thomas Mather, President of the State Bank of Illinois aforesaid, in consideration of the premises, and to the end, that the said Bank may be entitled to the benefits and provisions of said act, by virtue of authority in me vested by the Board of Directors of said Bank, by an order of said Board, bearing date the ninth day of June, A. D. 1836, in the name and behalf of said Bank, have this day covenanted, agreed, and contracted, and by these presents do covenant, agree, and contract to, and with Joseph Duncan, Governor of the State of Illinois, aforesaid, and his successors, that said Bank will redeem the loan commonly called the Wiggins Loan, made by authority of the State, on the 29th day of January, A. D. 1831; together with the interest which has accrued on said loan since the passage of the act first above mentioned, and which may hereafter accrue on said loan, in manner and form, as the said State by the contract made, for the aforesaid loan, is now bound to do.

IN testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Bank, at their Banking House in Springfield, this fifteenth day of June, A. D. 1836.

THOMAS MATHER, Pres't.

On motion of Mr. Leary, said communication and accompanying documents were laid on the table.

The Speaker, also, laid before the House a communication from the Auditor of Public Accounts,

Which was read, and is as follows:

STATE OF ILLINOIS, AUDITOR'S OFFICE, }
Vandalia, July 14th, 1837. }

To the Hon. the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR:—In compliance with the resolution of the House of Representatives, requesting the Auditor to inform the House at what time the fifty thousand dollars named in his report of 13th instant was drawn by the Fund Commissioners, &c.; I have the honor to state, that the said fifty thousand dollars was drawn by the Fund Commissioners, on the 25th day of May, but to what objects this amount has been applied by the said Commissioners I am unable to inform the House. According to my understanding of the 20th, section of the act entitled "an act to establish and maintain a general system of Internal Improvement," and the "act concerning the Surplus Revenue," the whole amount of said Surplus Revenue which has been or may be received, is subject to the direct and immediate control of the Fund Commissioners, for the purposes mentioned in said acts. The amount of surplus revenue deposited by the Treasurer in the State Bank, was deposited to the "credit of the State of Illinois;" and for this reason could not properly be placed under the control of the Fund Commissioners, except by warrant of the Auditor. The Fund Commissioners therefore, adopted this as the most proper mode of drawing the money, and drew it under the provisions of the foregoing recited acts.

I have the Honor to be sir,

Your obedient servant,

LEVI DAVIS, Aud.

On motion of Mr. Moore of St. Clair,

Said communication was laid on the table.

The resolution from the Senate making it the duty of the Board of Public Works, appointed under the provisions of an act to establish and maintain a General System of Internal Improvements, approved Feb. 27th, 1837, to make quarterly report of the number of persons employed by said board, nature of their service, &c.

Mr. Dougherty, from the Committee on the Judiciary, to which had been referred the communication of the Governor in relation to the election of the Judge of the 5th Judicial Circuit, and the Warden of the Penitentiary, reported:

That the only provision of the Constitution, which seems to bear on the point referred to your committee, is the 19th sect. of the 2d article of the Constitution, which provides "that no senator or representative shall, for the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this State, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during such time." By this provision, it was clearly the intention of the framers of our Constitution to prevent members of the legislature from using their influence as such members, to create offices, or increase the salaries of offices, for their private aggrandizement, and relates solely to the eligibility of persons to office. In the two cases referred to by the Governor, it is not contended that at the time of their election they were ineligible—the office of neither being created during the time for which he had been elected, or their salaries increased; it is clear that at the time they were elected, they were eligible to the offices they respectively held. This fact being once conceded, a question arises whether the increase of their salaries after elected, will operate as a removal from office. Your committee are of opinion that it does not, inasmuch as an acceptance of an office of profit, by any member of the legislature, vacates his seat as such member, and the time for which he was elected is determined. Your committee are therefore clearly of the opinion that they are constitutionally officers of this State, and that the provision of the constitution referred to by the Governor, in his communication, relates solely to eligibility at the time of election, and not to the holding of office after election.

Mr. Richardson, from the minority of the Committee on the Judiciary, to which had been referred the communication of the Governor in relation to the Warden of the Penitentiary, on leave given, made the following report, viz:

A minority of the Judiciary Committee to which was referred a communication of the Governor of the State of Illinois, inviting the attention of the General Assembly to the eligibility of the Warden of the Penitentiary to the office he now holds, having bestowed upon the subject the consideration which its importance to the country deserves, beg leave to submit the following as the result of their deliberations. By reference to the 19th section of the 2d Article of the State Constitution, it will be perceived that “No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this State which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during such time.” The first consideration that presents itself to the minority of the Committee, for what time is a Senator, and for what time is a Representative elected. By reference to the 2d and 3d sections of the 2d Article of the State Constitution, this matter is put to rest and placed beyond the possibility of a doubt. Senators, after a particular period of time are elected for four years, and Representatives for two years. Your Committee entertain the belief that when an individual is elected a Senator and accepts, he cannot for four years, fill any civil office under the State, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during such term of four years. So with a Representative: he is disqualified for two years after he accepts the same.

The minority of your Committee entertain the belief that in the case referred to by his Excellency Governor Duncan, in his communication to this State, the spirit and intention of the Constitution, if not the strict letter of the same, has been violated. They report the following facts:

Benjamin S. Enloe was elected in 1836 a Representative from the county of Johnson, in this State; that in December he was qualified and took his seat as such Representative: that on the 16th of January, 1837, he, said Enloe was elected Warden of the Penitentiary, a civil office under this State; and on the 27th of February, 1837, the salary of said Warden was increased from $600 to $800.

On motion of Mr. Ewing,

The resolutions introduced by him in relation to the Banks and currency, and some days since laid on the table, and ordered to be printed, were taken up for consideration.

Mr. Williams moved to amend said resolutions by adding the following, viz:

Resolved, That the moneys placed within the control of different State and local institutions, upon the removal of the deposits from the United States Bank, and the refusal to recharter the same, directly encouraged the multiplication of Banks, and greatly increased the issues of local Bank paper; and that, the Hon. Levi Woodbury, Secretary of the Treasury, in his report of 1834, supports these views in the following language, viz: “Those importations” (of specie) “also, united with the real prosperity of the country, and the large balance of over ten millions on deposit from the Treasury, enable the State Banks, and especially the selected ones, to discount in many places freely, and to support a sound paper currency in their own neighborhoods;” and that General Ewing, acting Governor, in his message of 1834, to the Legislature of Illinois, established the absolute necessity of this multiplication, in these strong terms, viz: “Permit me to present to the consideration of your honorable body, the subject of the establishment of a State Bank. Public judgment seems to have been pronounced against the recharter of the present Bank of the United States, in such unequivocal language as to involve the establishment of such an institution in an absolute necessity. I, therefore, in my capacity of Senator, propose to offer for your consideration a project for a State Bank, which, under the administration of judicious management, will annually defray the expenses of the civil administration of the State Government—pay off the principal and interest of the State loan—reproduce the annihilated school fund, and bring it back into being—cover all contingent defalcations—create a fund for the ultimate payment of the loan necessary to be made upon which to found the Bank, as also the annual payment of the interest thereof; and in addition to all these important desiderata, afford to our country, at this time almost wholly destitute of a monetary medium, a safe and approvable currency.”

Resolved, That the Government of the United States expressly advocated the removal of the deposits, (at the time when said removal was made) to the end that a circulating medium, to be furnished by the State Banks, might be provided as a substitute for that then in existence; and that, the Hon. R. B. Taney, Secretary of the Treasury, in his report of 1833, supports this proposition, as follows: “It is evident that a state of things so much to be deprecated,” (as the expiration of the charter of the U. States Bank, without a circulating medium being substituted in lieu of its notes,) “can only be avoided by timely preparation; and the continuance of the deposits can only be justified by the determination to renew the charter. The State Banks can, I have no doubt, furnish a general circulating medium, quite as uniform in value as that which has been afforded by the Bank of the United States. Probably more so. It is essential that the change should be gradual, and sufficient time should be allowed to suffer it to make its way by the ordinary operations of commerce, without requiring a hasty and violent effort;” and that the President, in his message of 1833, approved these views of Mr. Taney, in the following language: “Since the last adjournment of Congress, the Secretary of the Treasury has directed the money of the United States to be deposited in certain State Banks, assigned by him, and he will immediately lay before you his reasons for this direction. I concur with him entirely in the view he has taken of the subject.”

Resolved, That the State Banks, at the instance of the Secretary of the Treasury, did greatly increase their issues, and did afford especial accommodations to merchants engaged in fo-foreign trade; and that this proposition is sustained by the direction given by the Secretary of the Treasury (in his letter of September 1, 1833, to the President of the Girard Bank, Philadelphia,) in these words, viz: "The deposits of the public money will enable you to afford increased facilities to commerce, and to extend your accommodations to individuals. And as the duties which are payable to the Government, arise from the business and enterprise of the merchants engaged in foreign trade, it is but reasonable that they should be preferred, in the additional accommodation which the public deposits will enable your institution to give, whenever it can be done without injustice to the claims of other classes of the community."

Resolved, That this multiplication of State Banks, added to the liberal course, which the deposit banks are directed to pursue toward other moneyed institutions, (see Mr. Taney's letter to the President of the Maine Bank, Portland, Me.) and this increased issue of paper, and this accommodation to all classes of community, and especially to merchants engaged in foreign trade, as by direction of the Secretary, has generated a spirit of speculation and overtrading, which is finding its consummation in general bankruptcy, and a suspension of specie payments.

Resolved, That the funds of the deposite and other local banks have been furnished in large sums for speculation in public lands, and that with these funds thousands of acres of the public domain have been secured to overgrown capitalists and monopolizing land companies, to the great injury of the general interests of the new States, and to the prejudice of the actual settlers; and that the correctness hereof is vouched by the President of the United States, in his message of 1836, in this language, viz: "From the returns made by the various Registers and Receivers in the early part of last summer, it was perceived that the receipts arising from the sales of the public lands, were increasing to an unprecedented amount. In effect, however, these receipts amounted to nothing more than credits in bank. The banks lent out their notes to speculators; they were paid to the Receivers and immediately returned to the banks, to be lent out again and again, being mere instruments to transfer to speculators the most valuable public lands, and pay the Government by a credit on the books of the bank. Those credits on the books of some of the western banks, usually called depositees, were already greatly beyond their immediate means of payment, and were rapidly increasing. Indeed each speculation furnished means for another; for no sooner had one individual paid in their notes, than they were immediately lent to another for a like purpose, and the banks were extending their business and their issues so largely, as to alarm considerate men, and render it doubtful whether these bank credits, if permitted to accumulate, would ultimately be of the least value to the Government. The spirit of expansion and speculation was not confined to the deposit banks, but pervaded the whole multitude of banks throughout the Union, and was giving rise to new institutions to aggravate the evil."

Resolved, That we are entirely satisfied, that the experiment set on foot by the government, of using local banks as its fiscal agents, has entirely failed and should be abandoned; and that if the President, in his message of 1836, when he says, that the deposit "banks were extending their issues so largely as to alarm considerate men, and render it doubtful whether these bank credits, if permitted to accumulate, would ultimately be of the least value to the government," be correct, that then there is reason for believing that the treasury of the United States has become bankrupt by placing its funds in local banks, which banks have turned those funds over to merciless land speculators, and are now protesting the drafts of that government which warmed them into such active operation.

Resolved, That when the Secretary of the Treasury, in 1836, proclaimed that "the prospect on the subject of the currency" (alluding to local paper currency) "is therefore on the whole becoming more satisfactory, even without further legislation," he was grossly ignorant of our monetary condition; and that the banks, the "selected ones," have not furnished the country "with a better and more solvent currency," although aided by the public deposits and the reception of their notes in payment of government dues; but on the contrary, their paper is a depreciated, non-specie-paying-currency, and a fraud and an imposition upon the people, and especially upon the laboring people.

Resolved, That we consider the suspension of specie payments as a great evil which can only be excused by urgent necessity.

Resolved further, That such necessity resulting from the causes aforesaid and hastened by the Treasury Circular requiring payments for public lands to be made in specie, does now exist.

Mr. Dougherty moved to amend the proposed amendments, by striking out all the proposed, as well as the original resolutions, after the word "Resolved," and insert the following, viz:

"That to preserve the elective franchise untainted from the contaminating influence of overgrown moneyed institutions, and to aid the commercial operations of these United States, the establishing and maintaining of State Banks, with proper restrictions, is the best and only means."

Mr. Richardson called for a division of the question.

The question was then taken upon striking out, and

It was decided in the negative.

Mr. Carpenter moved to amend the proposed amendment, by striking out all after the word "Resolved," and insert the following, viz:

Resolved, That this House disavows the truth of the charge of Governor Duncan in his late message that the present calamity in the moneyed concerns of the county, is the result of the action of the General Government upon its currency.

Resolved, That Governor Duncan, in the declaration of his message that "there never was a sounder currency or a more healthy state of things in any Government in the world, than was furnished and produced by the United States Bank," is contrary to the assertion of the patriot and statesman Gen. Jackson, who has never betrayed his friends or deserted his principles, that "the Bank of the U. S. has failed in accomplishing the great object for which it was created, that of establishing a sound and uniform currency."

Resolved, That we verily believe a sound and uniform currency cannot and never will be established until the country return to the constitutional currency, gold and silver, and limits the use of bank bills to the business of exchange.

Resolved, That while we deny the many charges contained in Governor Duncan's message, against the late and present Administration, we most cordially approve of both.

Mr. Moore of St. Clair called for a division of the question.

The question was then taken upon striking out, and Decided in the affirmative, by yeas and nays, upon the call of Messrs. Lincoln and English, as follow, viz:

In the affirmative,

Mr. Dougherty moved to lay said resolutions and proposed amendments on the table;

Which was not agreed to.

Mr. Richardson moved the previous question.

The question recurring upon inserting the amendments proposed by Mr. Carpenter.

Mr. Webb called for a division of the question, so as to take the vote on the 1st, 2d, and 4th resolutions separately.

The question was then taken on inserting the 1st, 2d, and 4th resolutions, and Decided in the affirmative, by yeas and nays, as follow, to wit:

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Mr. Smith of Wabash, from the Committee on Internal Improvements, to which was referred so much of the Governor's Message as relates to the repeal of the Internal Improvement acts of the last session of the legislature, beg leave to present the following

R E P O R T :

The committee impressed with a deep sense of the important relations which this subject sustains with the future destinies of the State, and of the high respect due to the source from whence the recommendation to repeal these deliberative acts of the Legislature has emanated, have bestowed upon it all that serious reflection which these considerations so obviously demand. The reasons urged by the Executive in favor of the repeal of the law in question, have been attentively and calmly examined by the committee; and they are constrained to say, that those reasons have failed to convince them of the propriety of the Legislature adopting the measure recommended.

The principal objection suggested by the Executive against the prosecution of the system of Internal Improvements, which was established during the last session of the General Assembly, is founded in an apprehension that it will exert an injurious influence upon the freedom of the elective franchise, and tend to subvert the liberties of the people. It is true, the present deranged condition of the monetary concerns of the country is alluded to in his message, in connection with the other more prominent objection; but your committee are unable to infer from that document, that any serious difficulties are apprehended in relation to obtaining the necessary funds to prosecute the improvements contemplated by the act, or that embarrassment to the financial concerns of the State will result from it.

In regard to the apprehended perilous effects of the system of Internal Improvements, upon the political rights and interest of the people, so much relied on in the message as an objection to its prosecution, with all due deference to the executive opinions, your committee are constrained to dissent from them. Assuming that the free and enlightened people of Illinois are capable of self-government; that they have sufficient intelligence to understand their rights, and possess that high degree of patriotism, which will always prompt them to resist, at the threshold, every attempt at encroachment upon those rights, your committee cannot but believe, that the apprehended evil effects of the system, upon the freedom of elections, are more imaginary than real. It has become a practice, as common as it is fallacious, to compare our own happy and enlightened country, with the republics of the dark ages, and to entertain forebodings of its fate, from a consideration of their's. But it is time for these speculative opinions to give way to the force of truth; and a recurrence to the practical experiment of our own beloved government, for the last half century, cannot but tend to fix confidence in its stability, and at once dissipate the stale idea that our liberties and forms of government are liable to be sapped or uprooted by any officers deriving their authority from, and held responsible to the people themselves.

So far as the political evils, apprehended by the Executive, may arise from the prosecution of public works by State authority, the experience in other States of the Union, on the subject, will not justify the apprehensions entertained and expressed in the message. In New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio, extensive systems of public works have been in a course of construction for several years; and experience there has sufficiently tested the fact that their management and control have not tended to confer any great degree of political popularity or influence upon the officers entrusted with their prosecution. On the contrary, such are the multitudinous exceptions and complaints, which are ever arising against the public agents, that few individuals, however zealous, competent, and upright, have been able to sustain themselves against their influence. When the public works are prosecuted under the authority and with the funds of the State, every citizen feels his direct interest in the faithful and competent discharge of the duties of the public agents concerned therein. Every operation is scrutinized by a vigilance that never sleeps, and every act is constantly submitted to the wholesome ordeal of public opinion. Patronage, to be sure, must necessarily be a constituent ingredient in any system of public works. Yet this patronage cannot universally be bestowed; but is generally limited to a minority of applicants for its favors. There is little reason to apprehend danger from its influence.

The internal improvement law of this State has been framed with a direct reference to concentrating responsibility, preventing abuse of power, and securing, in its full extent, the faithful discharge of the duties of the agents, appointed under its provision. The fiscal and executive branches of the system are placed in the hands of agents, appointed at short intervals, by the people, through their Representatives in the General Assembly. The works are all required to be executed by contract, under such provisions and restrictions, as to preclude the possibility of fraud or favoritism being practiced, without immediate detection. The sub-agents, necessary to aid the officers in the discharge of their duties, are to be employed by those officers themselves; thus concentrating the responsibility, in a few individuals, chosen by, and held immediately responsible to, the representatives of the people. The works are extended over various sections of the State, and the people are at all times apprized of the conduct of the public agents in charge of the system, both from actual inspection, as well as from the reports which are required to be made at stated periods, under severe penalties for neglecting them.

In view, therefore, of the practical experience had upon the subject in other States; and of the checks and guards, against abuse of power, which are thrown around the system of internal improvements adopted in this State, your committee cannot concur in the opinion expressed by the Executive, in relation to the corrupting influence of the system, and its dangerous tendency against the rights and privileges of the people.

Your committee might proceed to expose what they believe to be the danger and inexpediency of prosecuting a system of improvements, coextensive with the wants of this State, on the plan recommended by the Executive. They however, will barely remark on this subject, that if the mighty energies of this great State, should be trammelled by a connection with incorporated companies, managed and controlled by the moneyed interests of other States and countries, it could not fail soon to become a source of unavailing regret to her citizens.

The bearing which the present deranged condition of the monetary concerns of the country may have upon the system, is worthy of the deliberate consideration of the Legislature, and has occupied the attention of your committee.

In the investigation of this subject, your committee cannot resist the conclusion, that if the State has it in her power to procure the necessary funds to prosecute the system, the present is a much more auspicious period for that purpose, than when the law was passed by the Legislature. So far from the present embarrassments in the commercial world forming an objection to the prosecution of improvements in Illinois, your committee entertain the opinion, that the most cogent arguments for the immediate and efficient prosecution of the works, is to be deduced from this circumstance.

The spirit of speculation which has pervaded the country, must now yield to the sober pursuits of industry; and the legitimate means of wealth, so bountifully placed by nature within the reach of the citizens of Illinois, will induce a great accession to our present enterprising population. The physical means of executing our public works will be greatly increased, by the distresses of the community, and the suspension of improvements and of manufactures in other portions of the Union. And no one can doubt, that the public works can now be let and executed at a great deduction of cost below what could have been done before the present derangements in the moneyed concerns occurred. And moreover, the market which their prosecution will now afford for the agricultural products of the country, and the employment they will give to mechanical labor, cannot but tend to ward off from this favored State, the effect of the disasters so deeply felt and loudly complained of elsewhere.

That the funds can be loaned, on the most favorable terms to consummate this desirable end, there is now no reason to doubt. The general loss of private confidence, which has recently taken place, and which is so much to be deplored on other accounts, has nevertheless tended to advance the value of, and demand for public securities. Sales have recently been made of State Bonds, of other States, on the most encouraging terms, and it is believed, that the Bonds of Illinois will be sought after with avidity, as soon as put into the market.

Another consideration, which has had great weight with your committee, and which has induced them to believe that the executive recommendation, will not be responded to by a majority of the people, is derived from the fact, that no petitions have been presented, praying for a repeal of the Laws in question. The law was published immediately upon its passage, and distributed by the members of the Legislature over the State. The proceedings of the Board of Public Works have likewise been published in detail, and extensively circulated. The works have been placed under survey in various sections of the state, and the whole subject kept prominently before the people in various ways. It is therefore not from a want of information on the subject, that the people have failed to apply to the Legislature at the present session, for a repeal of these important act of their representatives. And the fair presumption would seem to be, that if the views of a majority of the people coincided with those of the executive, as expressed in the document under the consideration of your committee, the tables of the Legislative Halls would have, ere now, been filled with petitions and other expressions of their sovereign will, in reference to this subject, so closely identified with the future destinies of the State.

In view, therefore, of the considerations briefly alluded to, and in the absence of petitions from the people to sustain the recommendations of the executive, with all due deference to the source from whence they have originated, and respect for the motives which induced them, your committee are constrained to dissent from them.
